PART 1 GENERAL INFORMATION

1.1 PUBLICATION 5078

Publication 5078, Modernized e-File \(MeF\) Test Package Business Submissions contains general and program specific testing information for use in completing the Assurance Testing System (ATS) process. Assurance Testing System is an annual process that tests the tax preparation software and/or the electronic transmissions for each Software Developer, transmitters, and large taxpayers wanting to participate in the MeF Program. In order to participate in the MeF Program, each Software Developer must pass testing for each form type and each tax year that they support. Transmitters are only required to perform a Communications Test their first year.

1.2 SCENARIOS

ATS scenarios are available on the Modernized e-File \(MeF\) Assurance Testing System \(ATS\) webpage.

1.3 EMPLOYER IDENTIFICATION NUMBERS (EINS)

All EINs for Federal business ATS scenarios will begin with “00.” Business Rule R0000-148 has been implemented in the ATS environment to reject any Federal business submission without a Filer EIN beginning with “00” in the Return Header. There will be no predetermined name controls. To accommodate the expanded range of EINs for business submission testing, the EIN/name control Business Rules will be disabled in ATS.

Note: See Exhibit 4 for a complete list of the Test EINs for BMF Forms.

1.4 ATS Known Issues and Solutions

The ATS Known Issues and Solutions documents are developed to identify and provide interim solutions to ATS issues identified with Schemas, Business Rules, and Stylesheets for each form family in the MeF System.

ATS Known Issues and Solutions are posted on the following link:

Modernized e-File \(MeF\) Assurance Testing System \(ATS\)

PART 2 ATS INFORMATION APPLICABLE TO ALL FORM TYPES

2.1 TEST PARTICIPANTS

2.1.1 IRS e-file Application and Participation

Prior to testing, all Software Developers and Transmitters must obtain an Electronic Transmitter Identification Number (ETIN) and an Electronic Filing Identification Number (EFIN) through the e-file Application process. If a Software Developer intends to transmit production submissions, they must register as both a Software Developer and Transmitter.

Refer to Publication 4164, Modernized e-File \(MeF\) Guide for Software Developers and Transmitters.

Refer to Publication 3112, IRS e-file Application and Participation, and E-file Provider Services or Become an authorized e-file provider for Online Application procedures.

Software Developers and Transmitters using Application to Application (A2A) are required to register the system(s) to conduct business with MeF to obtain Application System IDs (ASIDs). If the systems are not registered, the Software Developer or Transmitter cannot access MeF.

2.1.2 Software Developers

Software Developers are required to complete Assurance Testing using the applicable scenarios available on the Modernized e-File \(MEF\) Assurance Testing System \(ATS\) webpage to be accepted into the electronic filing program each filing season.

Software Developers are issued a Test ETIN by the IRS to be used for software testing. To allow year-round testing, the ETIN stays in Test mode.

2.1.3 Transmitters

For the initial year, transmitters are required to complete communication testing, to transmit production returns to the IRS. They do NOT need to perform communications test each year.

Transmitters are issued a Production ETIN by the IRS. The Forms Transmission Status (FTS) of all e-file Applications starts in Test mode. The FTS is updated, by the IRS, to Production status after a Transmitter passes the required communication testing. If the transmitter wants to test again, the "Forms Transmission Status" must be moved back to "Test", which prevents transmission of live returns.

The ETIN assigned in the application process must be included in each message.

2.1.4 Large Taxpayers

Large Taxpayers are required to complete communications test the first year only. They do NOT need to perform communications test each year.

Refer to Publication 4163 Modernized e-File \(MeF\) Information for Authorized IRS e-file Providers for Business Returns for general information on Large Taxpayers.

2.2 TEST SCENARIOS

All ATS scenarios are available on the Modernized e-File \(MEF\) Assurance Testing System \(ATS\) webpage. Each scenario includes a summary sheet which provides all the information needed to complete the scenario. The tax forms used in the scenarios may not include information on every line. While it may appear the scenario is incomplete, the absence of the data is intentional. For example, the software should populate any data that is totaled or transferred from another form in the return. Test returns include a limited number of forms and schedules. It is not possible to represent all possible conditions in these tests.

Test returns must be correctly prepared and computed before transmission. The IRS strongly recommends each return be run against a parser prior to transmission. IRS processing consists of two steps: Schema validation through a parser and Business Rule validation.

Use a separate Software ID and perform ATS testing for each software package.

Caution: To protect confidential tax and other sensitive information, do not use actual taxpayer information in the testing environment.

2.2.1 Scenarios by Form Type

The Assurance Testing System (ATS) consists of the following number of scenarios for each form type:

Form Type	Number of Scenarios

9465	1

Note: 94x On-Line Signature PIN Scenario is posted as Scenario #10 for 94x Annual and Scenario # 4 for 94x Quarterly forms for TY26.

2.2.2 IP Address

The IP Address for business submissions is located in the ReturnHeader Schema.

Use the following IP Address in the scenarios:

- 192.168.2.1
or
- Any valid public IP Address that meets the correct schema format

2.3 BENEFITS OF TESTING

The purpose of testing prior to live processing is to ensure:

- IRS can receive and process the electronic returns.
- Returns have fewer validation and math errors.
- Transmitters use the correct format according to the IRS MeF electronic filing specifications.
- Transmitters can retrieve responses from MeF, including acknowledgement files, State returns and State status records.
- Filers understand and are familiar with the mechanics of electronic filing.

The IRS strongly recommends that Software Developers use the ATS system to retest when there are Schema changes.

2.4 SOFTWARE IDENTIFICATION NUMBER

The Software Developer will need a Software Identification Number for each form family to be filed. The steps provided below, outline tasks to be completed to receive a Software Identification Number (SIN).

Software developers must access their e-Services account to submit questionnaires for each form they are testing. You must be an authorized user on a completed IRS e-file application and have Principal or user granted Principal Consent authority or be a Responsible Official or Delegate User with Add & Change Software Package Information authority granted. To receive a Software Identification Number for each product they plan to test, the Software Developer must follow the steps below to complete the questionnaire:

- Sign-in to their completed e-file application
- Select Organization Role (application must be in completed status)
- Select the Software Packages tab
- Select Add Software Package
- Complete the Add Software Packages pop-up
- Select Save

The system will then automatically issue the Software Identification Number for that package. When ready to test, Software Developers should notify the e-help Desk toll-free at 1(866) 255-0654 or respond to e-help desk email received.

Note: Software Developers need a new Software ID for each tax year and each tax package they support.

2.5 TESTING GUIDELINES FOR SOFTWARE DEVELOPERS

The IRS does not require a software product to offer all forms or schedules, or for all scenarios of a particular form or schedule.

2.5.1 Questionnaire

To begin testing, Software Developers must complete and submit an IRS questionnaire prior to testing indicating the forms and schedules they support. For additional information, please visit E-file Provider Services.

2.5.1 Submitting and Correcting Tests

Software Developers must test the complete form with no field limitations except for the number of occurrences. In addition, all tax types must be tested if they will be filed in production. For example, if Forms 1120 and 1120-S were initially tested and now an additional Form 1120-F is supported, Form 1120-F must be tested and approved before submitting live versions of the form.

Software Developers may transmit as many test returns as necessary until all scenarios are accepted. All Business Rule rejects must be corrected to pass ATS.

2.6 COMMUNICATIONS TEST FOR THE E-FILE SYSTEM

Transmitters must use accepted software to prepare and transmit returns and must complete a onetime error free communications test. Further communications testing is not required when adding additional forms. Software Developers, who will not transmit, are not required to perform a communications test.

2.6.1 Transmitting Returns

IRS allows two transmission methods for MeF:

- Internet Filing Application (IFA)
- Application to Application (A2A)

Transmitters must perform communications testing using the transmission method(s) that will be used for production.

- If only one method will be used (IFA or A2A), then that method must be tested.
- If both methods will be used (IFA and A2A), then both methods must be tested.

2.7 USING YOUR OWN TEST DATA

All forms included in each schema package are available for testing in ATS. Software Developers are not limited to testing only the forms provided in the scenarios. The IRS strongly recommends Software Developers use the ATS system to test all forms supported by the software prior to the filing season.

After passing ATS testing, Software Developers may continue testing throughout the year with their own data using the same Test ETIN. Transmitters can request a Test ETIN to continue testing, because the IRS will update Forms Transmission Status to Production Status once the communications test is passed. Call the e-help Desk toll-free at 1(866) 255-0654 to obtain a Test (Type) ETIN, as a Transmitter.

Use the same taxpayer's name and address information that is provided in the scenarios for independent tests. See Section 5.4, Exhibit 4, VALID EINS for test EINS for each tax type.

The scenarios on the Modernized e-File \(MEF\) Assurance Testing System \(ATS\) webpage have the most current draft forms and schedules available. Late legislation could affect the content of these scenarios and related schemas.

2.8 FEDERAL/STATE TESTING FOR FORMS

There is not a separate testing program for states. Full ATS for Transmitters and states will be available October 2025. Contact applicable or participating states for scenarios for state returns. Transmitters should test Federal scenarios before attempting to test state scenarios.

- Transmit Federal and State returns through A2A or IFA.
- Retrieve State returns through A2A.
- Included Forms: 1120/1120-S, 1065, 990/990-EZ/990-PF, Form 1041 and Form 709.

Participating States will allow filers to transmit State submissions as either “linked” or “unlinked.”

- IRS forwards the State portion of a “linked” submission to the participating State if the associated IRS return has been accepted. The Federal return and the “linked” State return can be filed at the same time. IRS will process the Federal submission first and determine the accepted or rejected status prior to processing the State submissions.
- IRS forwards the “unlinked” (sometimes referred to as “State stand alone”) State submission to the participating State regardless of whether or not a Federal return has been filed and accepted.
- Each participating State sets its own requirements for when to use a “linked” or “unlinked” submission.

It is the responsibility of each State to determine whether software testing is passed. Each State's requirements and procedures may be found on their website. For further information on State testing procedures, please contact the participating State office.

Additional information regarding States can be found on the Federation of Tax Administrators website.

2.9 XML RESOURCES

Below are resources that relate to XML Schemas, software tools and parsers. The IRS does not endorse any product, and resources are provided for information only. Any third-party parser toolkit can be utilized.

- Altova XMLSpy XML Editor
- Apache Project Directory
- W3C XML Home Page
- W3C XML Schema Home Page
- xerces.apache.org/

2.10 FORMATTING THE ENTITIES

The business entities presented in scenarios may appear in common usage formatting, such as commas and periods, or they may appear directly in XML formatting. Hyphens (-) and ampersands (&) are the only non-alphanumeric characters allowed by the IRS in entity name fields. These characters must also be considered when deriving the first four characters of the Name Control.

Refer to Publication 4164, Modernized e-File \(MeF\) Guide for Software Developers and Transmitters for proper formatting of business name lines and addresses using XML efile Types. Hyphens (-) and Ampersands (&) are the only non-alphanumeric characters allowed by IRS in entity information.

Example:

Test Scenario:

Help For All, Inc.
31 Any Street
Anytown, MD 20901

XML Format:

Help For All Inc (BusinessNameLine1Type)
31 Any St (StreetAddressType)
Anytown (CityType)
MD (StateType)
20901 (ZipCodeType)

2.11 LIMITATIONS OF THE ATS SYSTEM

The MeF Assurance Testing System cannot handle stress or load testing. The configurations are similar to the MeF Production System. When testing in the ATS environment, the response time is slower than the Production environment. This is especially true for extremely large returns in one-transmission or concurrent transmissions.

2.12 STRONG AUTHENTICATION

Refer to Section 4.1.2, Registration for A2A Credentials, in Publication 4164, Modernized e-File \(MeF\) Guide for Software Developers and Transmitters for information on strong authentication.

2.13 PASSWORDS

Refer to Publication 4164, Modernized e-File \(MeF\) Guide for Software Developers and Transmitters for information on passwords.

2.14 SIGNATURE REQUIREMENTS

Refer to Section 8, MEF ALTERNATIVE SIGNATURES, in Publication 4164, Modernized e-File \(MeF\) Guide for Software Developers and Transmitters for information on electronic signatures.

PART 3 ATS INFORMATION FOR SPECIFIC FORM TYPES

3.1 CORPORATE RETURNS - FORMS 1120, 1120-F, 1120-H and 1120-S

Software Developers supporting clients that file Forms 1120-L and 1120-PC as subsidiaries must develop their own scenarios including these forms and submit them for testing.

3.1.1 ATS Year for Corporate Returns

ATS testing for Corporation Returns is for Tax Year 2025 / Processing Year 2026. Scenarios are available on the Modernized e-File \(MEF\) Assurance Testing System \(ATS\) webpage.

3.1.2 Special Instructions for Consolidated Corporate Returns

MeF requires tax preparation software approved for electronic filing to use IRS forms for reporting data for each subsidiary return.

- The consolidated return tax preparation software approved for electronic filing must allow taxpayers to create a separate “stacked return” for the parent and each subsidiary return.
- The tax preparation software must allow taxpayers to report Eliminations and Adjustments as a separate “stacked return.”
- The tax preparation software may also allow taxpayers to use spreadsheets for the internal review of the return, but IRS requires all subsidiary data to be:
 - formatted
 - transmitted
 - viewed by the IRS as “stacked returns.”

MeF requires supporting data to be included in tax preparation software (see example provided below) or attached as scanned PDF files.

- The IRS reviews all the forms and instructions attached to the corporate forms and identifies every instance where taxpayers are required to attach supporting data.
- The IRS provides structured formats to Software Developers or provides instructions to enter supporting data as PDF files (in instances where IRS has not defined a format).

When the IRS has defined structured formats, Software Developers are required to use these formats for developing tax preparation software approved by IRS for electronic filing.

- It is the responsibility of Software Developers to provide appropriate instructions for taxpayers to enter supporting data to meet the IRS guidelines.
- Most Software Developers will allow taxpayers to import/export data from other sources.
- Software Developers should discuss available options with the taxpayer to determine how to prepare supporting data for their electronic return.

When submitting a consolidated return, the software must provide detail for each entity at the entity level and roll data up to the consolidated return. At a minimum, this roll-up information must be provided on any line where the form requires a statement or schedule to be attached (e.g., Form 1120, Line 10, Other Income (attach schedule), Line 26, Other Deductions (attach schedule)).

However, there are forms and schedules that are transactional or informational in nature and cannot be mathematically consolidated or reported on the consolidated return. The transactional data flows to the consolidated return via a different form or schedule and the informational data is attached to the consolidated return.

For example, the Form 6252, Installment Sale Income, results for each transaction flow to the Form 4797, Sales of Business Property and subsequently, the data on the Form 4797 flows to the consolidated return. The Form 8883, Asset Allocation Statement Under Section 338, provides informational data only and does not flow to any other schedule, form, or a consolidated return.

Below is an example based on the data provided in ATS, Form 1120, Scenario 2 for a consolidated return:

Attachment 1, F1120, line 10, Other Income (Itemized Other Income Schedule)
Consolidated Schedules	TOTAL	Hide 'N Seek Foods, Inc.	The Greek Playhouse	Acme Food Corp.

5.4 EXHIBIT 4 - VALID EINS

Use “00” as the prefix for all Federal and State business return EINs. The EIN ranges are designated for each tax type. The “00” is enforced by a Business Rule for Federal returns. The EIN ranges for State returns are recommended but are NOT enforced by a Business Rule. For example:

- 00-1000000 through 00-1999999 is used for ETEC
- 00-2000000 through 00-2999999 is used for 1065
- 00-3000000 through 00-3999999 is used for 94x
- 00-4000000 through 00-4999999 is used for 1041
- 00-5000000 through 00-5999999 is used for 1042
- 00-9000000 through 00-9999999 is used for Exempt Organizations and Other Tax-Exempt Entities

The ranges can be separated between IRS and State usage. The States would determine their specific ranges. As an example:

- 00-0100000 through 00-0199999 is used for 1120 Federal Returns
- 00-0200000 through 00-0255555 is used for 1120 Alabama State Testing
- 00-0256666 through 00-0260000 is used for 1120 Arkansas State Testing

The States Federation of Tax Administrators (FTA) could divvy up the EINs between XX-X200000 through XX-X999999 for externals to use for State Testing.
