Industry Statistics and Their Limitations

The Corporation Income Tax Returns were classified according to the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS). The United States, Canada, and Mexico, in a combined effort, developed NAICS to provide a common, comparable industry classification for their economic statistics. A number of similar NAICS industries have been combined in order to keep the number of industries published for Statistics of Income comparable to prior years and to provide reliable statistical estimates. The data are listed under 22 sectors, 81 major groups, and 196 minor industries. Major groups are groupings of NAICS subsectors. When data are the same for minor and major industries, only the major industry is shown. When data are the same for minor, major and sector, only the sector is shown. Prior to 1998, the Standard Industrial Classification was used to classify the data and the result is that some of the data may not be comparable between the two classification systems. A comparison between the North American Industrial Classification System, the Standard Industrial Classification, 1987, and the groupings used for Statistics of Income, can be found in the 2002 revised copy of the "General Description of the Corporation Source Book," and the "Statistics of Income--1998, Corporation Income Tax Returns." NAICS was revised for 2002 and 2007.

Even though the Statistics of Income classification system is designed to apply to the company rather than the establishment, its application to corporation income tax return statistics has limitations. A return is classified by industry based on the activity accounting for the largest percentage of total receipts. This means that large corporations with diversified activities are included in only one industry even though many of their business operations are unrelated to the industry in which they are classified. Therefore, statistics for an industry may be either understated by amounts reported by corporations whose principal activity lies elsewhere, or overstated by amounts reported by corporations classified in the industry, but having substantial operations in other industries. When a company's operations are diversified among related minor industries, the diversification effect may be mitigated somewhat when data for related minor industries are aggregated into the major industries, and to a greater degree when related major industries are aggregated into sectors.

The 2010 Corporate Statistics of Income has been derived from a stratified probability sample of corporation income tax returns. The returns used were selected after revenue processing but before audit examination. Returns of the largest corporations are generally in the sample from year to year, but comparability of Source Book statistics is affected by consolidations and mergers, as well as by changes in the law, the tax forms, and the industrial classification systems used over the years. For information on the changes in law and the description of the sample and limitations of the data, see Statistics of Income--2010, Corporation Income Tax Returns.

NOTES

- * Estimate should be used with caution because of the small number of sample returns on which it is based.
 -  In order to avoid disclosure of information for specific corporations, these data have been combined with data in a lower asset size class.
 - (d) In order to avoid disclosure of information for specific corporations, these data have been deleted. Data are included in appropriate totals.
 - [1] This amount is less than $500.
1. Income year 2010 covers corporation accounting periods ended July 2010 through June 2011.
 2. Size of total assets is in thousands of dollars, except for the third asset column which should be read as $1 under $500,000.
 3. Detail may not add to totals due to rounding, deletion of data, and components not published.
 4. Negative income, deduction, asset and liability items reported by taxpayers are included in the related other field (other income, other deductions, other assets or other liabilities). Thus, negative amounts may be seen in other income, other deductions, other assets and other liabilities.
 5. "Retained earnings unappropriated" includes 1120S retained earnings which includes appropriated and unappropriated. "Retained earnings unappropriated" also includes "Adjustments to shareholders' equity" that are not shown separately.
 6. Form 1120S returns, which are included in the first two sections, are also shown separately in the last three sections of this book. The last section "Returns with Total net income" represents activity from a trade or business, plus portfolio related activity, plus real estate rental activity, plus other rental activity when the Total net income (less deficit) is greater than zero. Total net income reflects items reported on the Schedule K plus items on the income statement of page 1 of the Form 1120S. This item is unique for an 1120S Corporation as compared with other form types presented in this publication.
 7. Numbers shown in the Tax Forms Section in parentheses correspond to line numbers in the "with and without net income" tables for Forms 1120 and 1120S, which are found on pages 11 and 521, respectively. Line numbers that do not appear on the forms indicate that the data were from other than a Form 1120 or 1120S, or were the result of a combination of several lines.
 8. Corporations with less than $250,000 in total receipts for the tax year and less than $250,000 in total assets at the end of the tax year are not required to file Schedules L, M-1, and M-2. These corporations are classified according to total assets reported on Form 1120, Page 1, Line D, or Form 1120S, Page 1, Line F, so they will be in the $1 under $500,000 column. Therefore, balance sheet items may be understated for that column.
 9. The North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) was revised for 2002. There was a renumbering of industries in the Wholesale Trade sector, and reorganization and renumbering of the Construction and Information sectors.
 10. The North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) was revised for 2007. Minor industry 525930, Real Estate Investment Trusts (Form 1120-REIT), was deleted from the classification. Mortgage REIT's were reclassified to 525995, Other Financial Vehicles. Equity REIT's were reclassified to the Real Estate sector under minor industry 531115 or 531135 based on the content of the portfolio. Major group 516, Internet Publishing and Broadcasting was deleted from the classification and reclassified with major group 519, Other Information Services. Internet Service Providers were reclassified from major group 518 to major group 517, Telecommunications. Web Search Portals were reclassified from major group 518 to major group 519, Other Information Services,
 11. See the report Statistics of Income--2010, Corporation Income Tax Returns, for a discussion of these statistics including: Changes in law; Description of the sample and limitations of the data; Explanation of terms; and facsimiles of corporation income tax returns forms, 2010. This report may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, US GPO, Washington, DC 20402.
 12. The Wholesale and Retail Sector includes "Wholesale and Retail Trade not Allocable," which is not shown separately in tables "Form 1120S Returns with and without Net Income," "Form 1120S Returns with Net Income," and "Form 1120S Returns with Total Net Income."
